Autism spectrum and psychosis risk in the 22q11.2 deletion syndrome. Findings from a prospective longitudinal study

Fiksinski AM, Breetvelt EJ, Duijff SN, Bassett AS, Kahn RS, Vorstman JA.
Schizophr Res. 188:59-62, 2017

This research investigated whether Autism Spectrum Disorders (ASDs) in individuals with 22q are actually associated with an increased risk for development of schizophrenia, or whether psychotic disorders and ASDs may arise independently. The answer was that they are independent conditions.